

Before you print!

Choose from colored graphics or black and white. Also, consider cardstock for durability.

Easy Version, It's a Race to Eat!

Be the first person to get all 6 foods on your plate. Along the way you might spin peas 4 times, but that's ok. Stack your peas on your plate and keep spinning until you get at least 1 of all 6 foods.

What you will need:

- One brad and one paperclip for your spinner.
- One placemat for each child
- Scissors to cut out food.
- Print food sheets as needed, start with one per food.

For durability print on cardstock. For ever stability more you can laminate the pages, spinner and foods.

For durability print on cardstock. For ever stability more you can laminate the pages, spinner and foods.

Winner, Winner, Turkey Dinner!

Object: To be the first to get at least one of each food on their plate before anyone else.

How to play: Each player should take turns spinning the paperclip and picking up the food that the paperclip points to. Place the food on your plate and take turns spinning again. Be the first to have at least one of each food on your plate and you WIN!

BrilliantLittleIdeas.com

Hard Version, It's a Race to Eat!

Be the first person to get all 6 foods on your plate. Along the way you might spin peas 4 times, but that's ok. Stack your peas on your plate and keep spinning until you get at least 1 of all 6 foods. If you land on the turkey you have to put all of your food back and start all over again.

For durability print on cardstock. For ever stability more you can laminate the pages, spinner and foods.

What you will need:

- One brad and one paperclip for your spinner.
- One placemat for each child
- Scissors to cut out food.
- Print food sheets as needed, start with one per food.

For durability print on cardstock. For ever stability more you can laminate the pages, spinner and foods.

Winner, Winner, Turkey Dinner!

Object: To be the first to get at least one of each food on their plate before anyone else.

How to play: Each player should take turns spinning the paperclip and picking up the food that the paperclip points to. Place the food on your plate and take turns spinning again. If you land on the turkey you have to put all of your food back and start all over again. Be the first to have at least one of each food on your plate and you WIN!

BrilliantLittleIdeas.com

Before you print!

Choose from colored graphics or black and white.
Also, consider cardstock for durability.

Easy Version, It's a Race to Eat!

Be the first person to get all 6 foods on your plate.
Along the way you might spin peas 4 times, but that's ok. Stack your peas on your plate and keep spinning until you get at least 1 of all 6 foods.

What you will need:

- One brad and one paperclip for your spinner.
- One placemat for each child
- Scissors to cut out food.
- Print food sheets as needed, start with one per food.

For durability print on cardstock. For ever stability more you can laminate the pages, spinner and foods.

For durability print on cardstock. For ever stability more you can laminate the pages, spinner and foods.

Winner, Winner, Turkey Dinner!

Object: To be the first to get at least one of each food on their plate before anyone else.

How to play: Each player should take turns spinning the paperclip and picking up the food that the paperclip points to. Place the food on your plate and take turns spinning again. Be the first to have at least one of each food on your plate and you WIN!

BrilliantLittleIdeas.com

Hard Version, It's a Race to Eat!

Be the first person to get all 6 foods on your plate. Along the way you might spin peas 4 times, but that's ok. Stack your peas on your plate and keep spinning until you get at least 1 of all 6 foods. If you land on the turkey you have to put all of your food back and start all over again.

For durability print on cardstock. For ever stability more you can laminate the pages, spinner and foods.

What you will need:

- One brad and one paperclip for your spinner.
- One placemat for each child
- Scissors to cut out food.
- Print food sheets as needed, start with one per food.

For durability print on cardstock. For ever stability more you can laminate the pages, spinner and foods.

Winner, Winner, Turkey Dinner!

Object: To be the first to get at least one of each food on their plate before anyone else.

How to play: Each player should take turns spinning the paperclip and picking up the food that the paperclip points to. Place the food on your plate and take turns spinning again. If you land on the turkey you have to put all of your food back and start all over again. Be the first to have at least one of each food on your plate and you WIN!

BrilliantLittleIdeas.com

Sweet Tea

Dessert Plate

Dinner Plate

BrilliantLittleIdeas.com

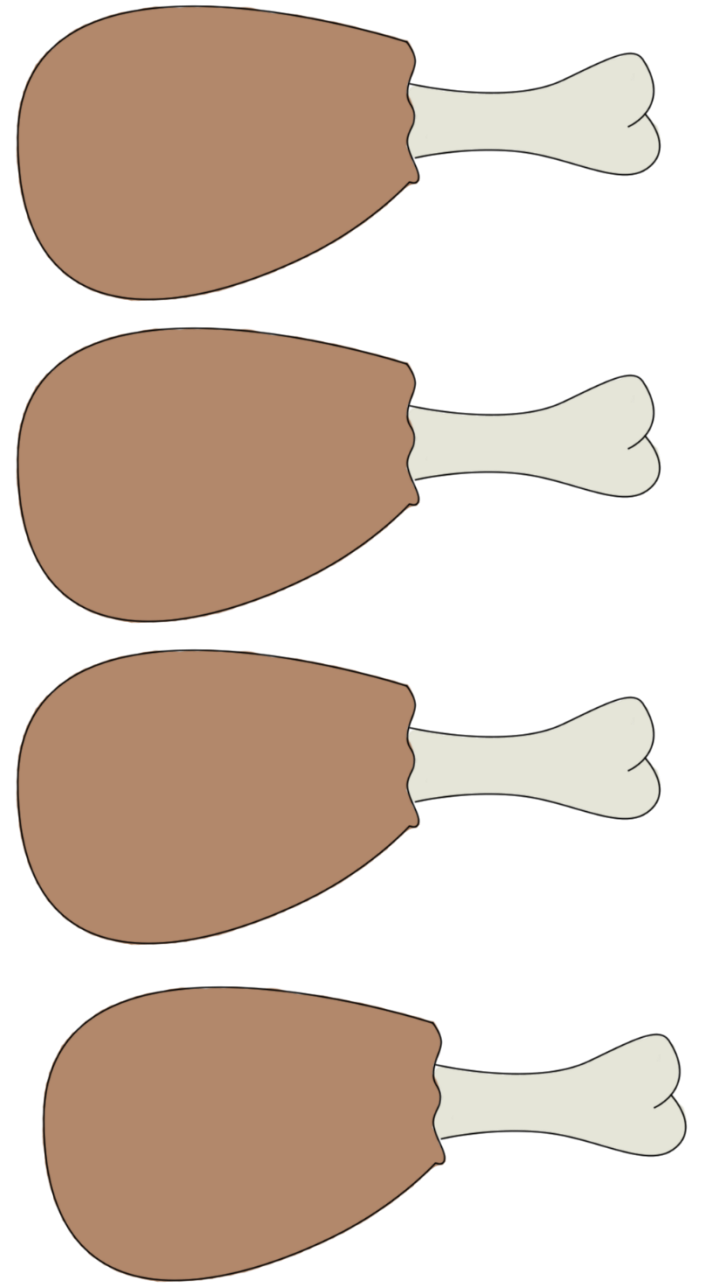

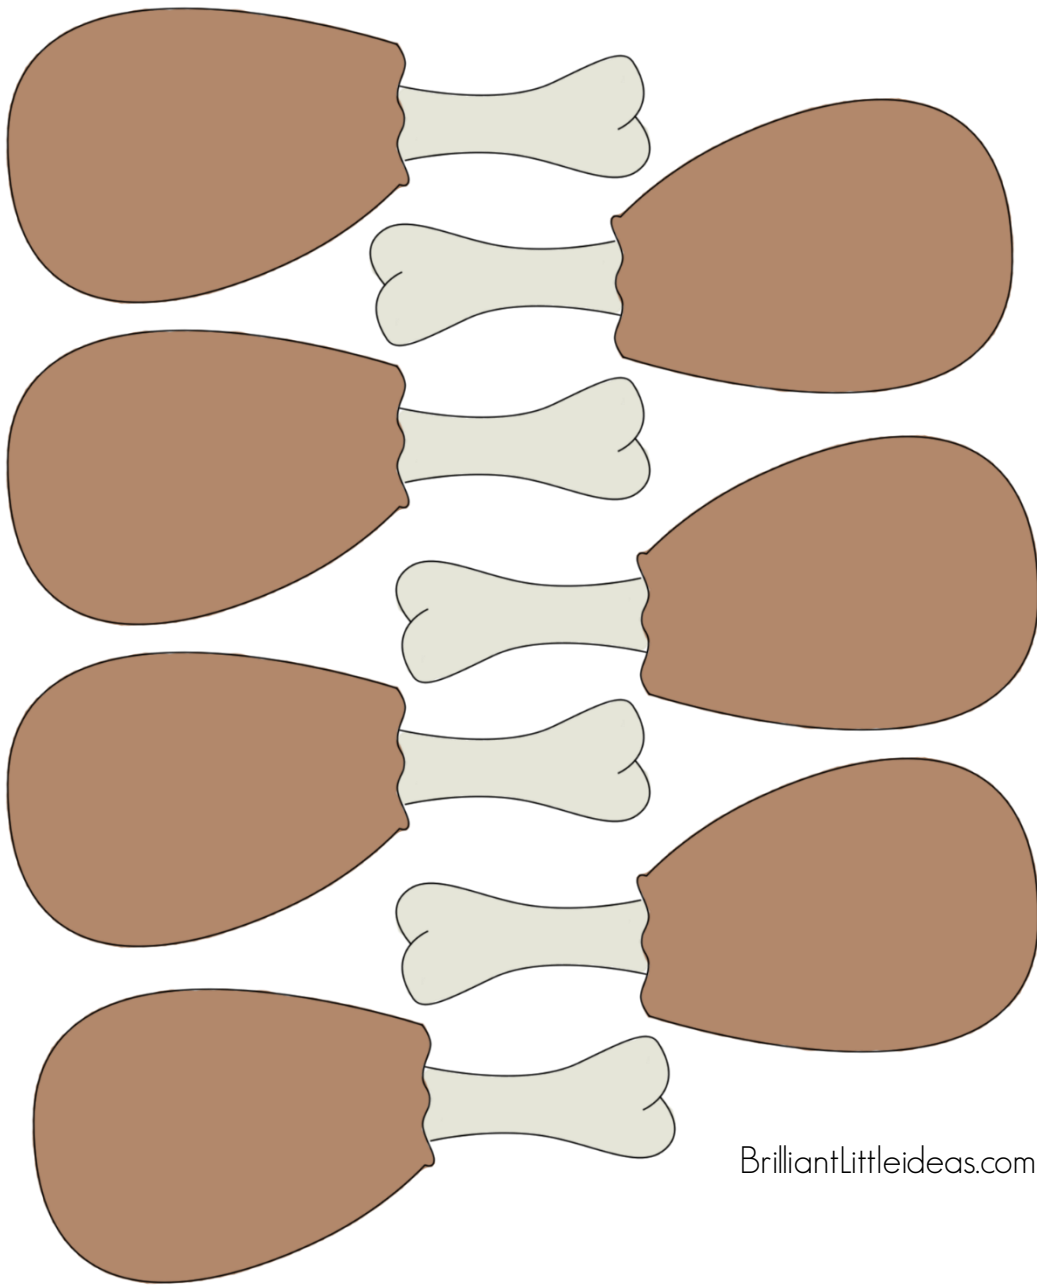

BrilliantLittleIdeas.com

